Committee for Programme and Coordination
Fifty-sixth session
31 May-24 June 2016
Agenda item 7
Adoption of the report of the Committee on its fifty-sixth session

Draft report

Rapporteur: Mr. Aleg Yermalovich (Belarus)

Addendum

Proposed strategic framework for the period 2018-2019
(Item 3 (b) (ii))

Programme 20
Human rights

1. At its 10th meeting on 6 June 2016, the Committee considered programme 20, Human rights, of the proposed strategic framework for the period 2018-2019 (A/71/6 (Prog. 20)). The Committee also had before it a note by the Secretariat on the proposed strategic framework, contained in conference room paper E/AC.51/2016/CRP.1/Rev.1.

2. The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights introduced the programme and responded to queries raised during the Committee's consideration of the programme.

Discussion

3. Delegations expressed support and appreciation to the High Commissioner for the presentation of the proposed strategic framework for the period 2018-2019, and recognized the important role of human rights as one of the three pillars of the work of the United Nations, as well as the important role of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR). Delegations also emphasized the principles of universality, objectivity, impartiality, indivisibility and non-selectivity that guided the programme.

4. Concerns were expressed over the procedural aspects of the programme review by relevant intergovernmental bodies. Some delegations made reference to paragraph 2 of the Human Rights Council President's statement 15/2 of 1 October 2010, which invited "the High Commissioner to present the Secretary-General's proposed strategic framework for Programme 19, Human rights, to the Council prior to its submission to the Committee for Programme and Coordination, for the purpose of the High Commissioner to compile and submit the views of States and relevant stakeholders for transmission to the Committee for consideration". Some delegations were of the view that this procedure had not been followed and that the proposed programme plan had not been officially reviewed by the Human Rights Council prior to its submission to the Committee for Programme and Coordination for consideration, given that only an informal briefing had been held by the High Commissioner. Some delegations stressed that, in future, the established procedure should be followed. Delegations stressed that the effective implementation of the proposed goals of the programme was only possible through strengthened dialogue with Member States, and that such a dialogue should not be limited to a compilation of Member State opinions and comments, but rather form the groundwork to improve the content of the proposed framework. The importance of defining priorities for future bienniums was stressed.

5. Some delegations expressed concern over the restructuring of OHCHR, which had taken place without the prior approval of the General Assembly. In particular, delegations raised the fact that regional hubs had been created and four divisions had been integrated into three. Clarification was sought as to the functions and resources of the three divisions, and why the mandate for the restructuring had not been mentioned. It was noted that the Office had proceeded with the reform and the advertising of posts without Member State approval, and it was recalled that the issue had been discussed by the Fifth Committee at the main part of the seventieth session of the Assembly, and paragraph 84 of Assembly resolution 70/247 requested the Secretary-General to present to the Assembly at its seventy-first session a revised proposal on the regional restructuring of OHCHR for consideration and approval. Concern was expressed by some delegations that the changes presented a fait accompli, and were not in line with the Regulations and Rules Governing Programme Planning, the Programme Aspects of the Budget, the Monitoring of Implementation and the Methods of Evaluation (PPBME Rules) (see ST/SGB/2016/6) or with Assembly resolution 66/257.

6. Although the proposed strategic framework was in essence a continuation of the strategic framework for the biennium 2016-2017, it was noted that changes had been made to the text, such as the deletion of the references to the individual divisions responsible for the implementation of each subprogramme. That led to expressions of concern by some delegations over the absence of a clear organizational structure to guide the overall implementation of the programme. Some delegations were of the view that the omission was not in line with rule 104.5 (c) of the PPBME Rules, which states that the subprogramme structure should, to the extent possible, be in the remit of an organizational unit, normally at the divisional level.

7. A request was made for an updated organigramme to be made available, which would include the posts at headquarters and in the field funded from the regular budget as well as from extrabudgetary resources and the support account for peacekeeping operations. In that regard, clarification was sought on the increase of capacity on the ground, and whether that increase was linked to an increase in demand and, if so, which activities were being implemented involving which entities. In addition, with regard to human resources management, a delegation expressed the view that the principle of equitable geographical representation did not seem apparent in the staffing structure of the Commission.

8. A delegation expressed surprise that the changes in the proposed strategic framework, which seemed administrative in nature and which were raised at every session, had generated such concern in the Committee. It was suggested that discussions of this nature were best suited for other forums, such as the Fifth Committee. Another delegation expressed the view that it was the sovereign right of each delegation to seek clarification and raise issues of concern.

9. It was recalled that the programme should be in line with the mandates given in General Assembly resolutions 48/141, 60/251, 65/281 and 68/268, which should be fully implemented by States parties. Some delegations shared the view that the work of the Office was not balanced, in that it went beyond existing mandates.

10. Some delegations raised the issue of the Human Rights Up Front initiative mentioned in the programme performance report of the United Nations for the biennium 2014-2015 (A/71/75), and sought clarification on the mandate for the implementation of that initiative.

11. Broad support was expressed regarding the updates to the programme pertaining to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Queries were raised regarding the implications of the 2030 Agenda on the work of OHCHR, and how the Office would support its implementation.

12. Some delegations raised the concern that in many indicators of achievement the word "increased" had been removed and that many indicators seemed to measure the work of Member States rather than that of the Secretariat.

13. Emphasis was placed on the importance of country mandates, as well as of interactions between the Office and the Security Council. The activities to promote peace and security were highlighted. The importance of issues relating to gender, peace and security and cooperation with the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) was also raised. The importance of countering discrimination and advancing the rights of children and women, as indicated in paragraph 20.4, was highlighted.

14. Clarification was sought regarding which subprogramme covered the activities in support of the implementation of various instruments, ratifications and conventions. Particular emphasis was placed on the International Convention for the Protection of All Persons from Enforced Disappearance and the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment. The issue of the social responsibility of private companies was also highlighted, as covered under the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights. A delegation highlighted that proposals would be forthcoming to balance the text of the strategic framework to include references to more specific rights, including the rights to freedom of assembly, freedom of peaceful association, freedom of expression and freedom of religion and belief, and to the responsibility to protect.

15. It was noted that OHCHR had supported activities carried out by non-governmental actors. Clarification was sought as to who the non-governmental actors were, as well as the guiding principles OHCHR observed prior to supporting or sponsoring such events, and how the Office coordinated the activities with Member States, particularly in the African region.

16. With regard to subprogramme 1, some delegations sought clarification on how the Office ensured equal importance of all human rights and avoided overlap in integrating them into its various areas of work. Under Part A of subprogramme 1, Human rights mainstreaming, questions were raised on indicator of achievement (c), regarding ways to systematically measure the integration of human rights into the Sustainable Development Goals.

17. Under Part B of subprogramme 1, Right to development, some delegations expressed concern over the reduced focus on the right to development, and in that regard stated that the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development should be mainstreamed as a matter of priority into the work of OHCHR through targeted and concrete measures. Questions were raised regarding the organizational structure of the office responsible for administering the implementation of the right to development framework, and whether any changes had taken place in that regard.

18. Under Part C of subprogramme 1, Research and analysis, in expected accomplishment (a) on combating discrimination, some delegations pointed out that some text from the proposed strategic framework for the period 2016-2017 (A/69/6 (Prog. 20)) had been deleted, and clarification was sought as to the reasons for the deletion. Clarification was sought as to the reasons why references to field activities and services on technical assistance and capacity-building had not been included, taking into account the importance of those areas of work. Under subparagraph (b) of paragraph 20.10 of the strategy, clarification was sought with respect to the provision of human rights reference services. The inclusion of advisory services and technical support in the programme of activities for the implementation of the Durban Process and the International Decade for People of African Descent, as well as awareness-raising campaigns, was welcomed.

19. With respect to subprogramme 2, Supporting human rights treaty bodies, it was noted that some indicators of achievement stated an increased number of reports. Regarding indicator of achievement (a) (ii), questions were raised as to who would send the individual communications and how the process would work. Some delegations emphasized that General Assembly resolution 68/268, on strengthening and enhancing the effective functioning of the human rights treaty body system, should be fully implemented and strictly complied with, while clarifying the roles of States parties, signatories and the Secretariat. Concerning indicator of achievement (a) (ii), further details were requested on how the strengthening of support for treaty bodies was implemented and assessed.

20. With respect to subprogramme 3, Advisory services, technical cooperation and field activities, clarification was sought on the nature of the cooperation with remote areas of participating Member States. The need to provide assistance to Member States with the implementation of the universal periodic review was underlined. Clarification was also sought on the changes made to expected accomplishments (a) and (b).

21. With respect to subprogramme 4, Supporting the Human Rights Council, its subsidiary bodies and mechanisms, a delegation proposed to enhance efforts at promoting dialogue and cooperation in the Human Rights Council and its subsidiary organs and providing timely and effective assistance to Member States for the universal periodic review mechanism of the Human Rights Council.

22. Under the list of mandates, it was noted that a number of references had been deleted in the proposed strategic framework for the period 2018-2019 compared with the list of mandates for the period 2016-2017, and that the list was no longer grouped by subprogramme. Some delegations sought clarification on the reasons why some mandates had been deleted and others had not; for example, why the resolution concerning the mandate of the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran had been included in the list of mandates for 2018-2019, given that the mandate would be limited to one year only (see Human Rights Council resolution 28/21).

23. Clarification was sought as to which subprogramme covered issues on sexual orientation and gender identity, as well as why Human Rights Council resolution 27/32 on human rights, sexual orientation and gender identity was not included in the list of mandates.

24. Serious concerns were expressed over the ongoing restructuring of OHCHR, including the establishment of regional hubs, without prior consideration and approval by the Committee for Programme and Coordination and the Fifth Committee of the General Assembly. Some members insisted upon the urgent need to formally present at the Human Rights Council for consideration and approval the change management and the Human Rights Up Front initiatives.

25. Concerns were raised regarding procedural aspects of the programme. In particular, it was stressed that the programme, like all other programmes, must be formulated in accordance with the PPBME Rules, in particular regulation 4.8. In that regard, some delegations expressed the view that the agreed procedures of programme planning had not been followed, as the proposed biennial programme plan had not been officially reviewed by the Human Rights Council prior to its submission to the Committee at its fifty-sixth session.

26. It was underlined that OHCHR was part of the Secretariat of the United Nations and consequently it was subject to the same policies, rules and regulations as the rest of the Secretariat. Therefore, OHCHR must ensure that its work was fully in line with related intergovernmental mandates and the biennial programme plan and priorities for the given biennium, as approved by the General Assembly.

27. Some delegations expressed strong support for the overall work of OHCHR and confidence in the High Commissioner's ability to address internal organizational issues. One delegation expressed surprise that the Committee for Programme and Coordination was devoting considerable attention, in its review of the draft strategic framework for programme 20, to relatively minor details about the way OHCHR would be structured in the future. The same delegation considered it to be very clear that the Secretary-General had a mandate to put human rights at the forefront of the Organization's work.

28. Concerns were expressed about the focus of an entire section on the "right to development" when work was needed to reach a consensus definition of that term. Concerns were also expressed about the inclusion of the Durban Declaration and Programme of Action as part of the focus of the OHCHR strategy. A delegation expressed the view that the "right to development" lacked an internationally agreed understanding as a universal human right held and enjoyed by individuals, and suggested that OHCHR could best use its limited resources to focus on such individual rights as the rights to freedom of expression, freedom of association, freedom of peaceful assembly and freedom of thought, conscience, religion or belief.

29. Some delegations encouraged the programme to continue to focus on the International Decade for People of African Descent.

Conclusions and recommendations

30. The Committee recommended that the General Assembly approve the programme narrative of programme 20, Human rights, of the proposed strategic framework for the period 2018-2019, subject to the following modifications:

Overall orientation

Paragraph 20.2

Replace the paragraph with: "The programme is guided by the principles of universality, objectivity, impartiality, indivisibility and non-selectivity in removing obstacles to the full realization of all human rights and in preventing the continuation of human rights violations, including with relevant parties. It undertakes to give practical effect to the will and resolve of the world community, as expressed through the United Nations, including in the Millennium Declaration, the 2005 World Summit Outcome and the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, which acknowledged peace and security, development and human rights as interlinked and mutually reinforcing pillars of the United Nations system, providing foundations for collective security and well-being, and recognized that the respect for and promotion and protection of human rights is an integral part of effective work towards achieving the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The United Nations human rights programme has a role in making development equitable, sustainable and responsive to the needs of people and in relation to conflict prevention and resolution."

Delete the last sentence.

Subprogramme 1
Human rights mainstreaming, right to development, and research and analysis

Insert new paragraph 20.8, reading: "The responsibility for implementing the subprogramme lies with the Research and Right to Development Division."

Renumber the remaining paragraphs.

Replace the objectives of the Organization, expected accomplishments of the Secretariat, indicators of achievement and strategies of subprogramme 1 with:

A. Human rights mainstreaming

Objective of the Organization*: To advance the promotion and protection of all human rights and to further integrate all human rights into areas of work of the United Nations system, in accordance with the guiding principles of this programme

Expected accomplishments of the Secretariat	Indicators of achievement
(a) Further support for the integration of all human rights into areas of work of the United Nations system, such as economic and social development, humanitarian, peace and security, governance and rule of law programmes and activities	(a) Increased number of United Nations projects and activities that further integrate human rights
(b) Strengthened capacity of the United Nations system to further integrate all human rights into their respective programmes and activities and to assist countries, at their request, in building and strengthening national human rights promotion and protection capacities	(b) Increased number of United Nations activities, projects and programming documents that further integrate human rights
(c) Wider knowledge within the entire United Nations system of relevant human rights issues while taking into account disability and gender-mainstreaming issues	(c) Increased percentage of resident and humanitarian coordinators, special representatives of the Secretary-General and United Nations officials at all levels trained and advised by OHCHR

Strategy

20.9 This part of the subprogramme will continue to play a leadership role in pursuing cooperation within the United Nations system for the integration of human rights into its development, environmental, humanitarian, peace and security, governance, democracy and rule of law programmes and activities, consistent with the existing and respective mandates in these areas, in order to contribute to the full and effective implementation of international human rights instruments by all States, including, upon States' request, through United Nations country teams. The strategy will focus on:

(a) Integrating human rights into United Nations programmes and activities in the development, environmental, humanitarian, peace and security, governance, democracy and rule of law areas, contributing to the promotion and protection of all human rights at all levels;

(b) Strengthening the engagement and partnership, at the international level, of OHCHR with the World Bank, the United Nations Development Programme, the United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women (UN-Women) and other United Nations agencies, bearing in mind their respective mandates, as well as with civil society, including non-governmental organizations;

(c) Promoting the practical integration of all human rights into development programmes, as well as ensuring consistency and mutual reinforcement between United Nations-supported development activities and country engagement strategies which are jointly agreed upon by the concerned State and OHCHR;

(d) Developing methodologies to facilitate the inclusion of all human rights in United Nations policies, programmes and activities for development, peace and security, the rule of law, governance and humanitarian assistance, and to facilitate, where appropriate, the advancement of the practical applications of rights-based approaches in these policies, programmes and activities;

(e) Contributing to developing the capability of the United Nations system, including the United Nations country teams, through training, advice and methodological tools, to assist requesting States in building and enhancing national capacities to promote and protect all human rights and mainstream human rights into national policies.

B. Right to development

Objective of the Organization: To advance the promotion and protection of the effective enjoyment by all of all human rights by contributing to the effective realization of the right to development

Expected accomplishments of the Secretariat	Indicators of achievement
(a) Further integration of the promotion and protection of the right to development in global partnerships for development and, as appropriate, in the policies and operational activities of relevant actors at all levels	(a) Increased number of projects and activities aimed at integrating the right to development, including in global partnerships for development
(b) Further promote and protect the realization of the right to development	(b) Increased number of activities and projects in support of the realization of the right to development
(c) Enhanced awareness, knowledge and understanding of the right to development at all levels	(c) Increased number of activities organized and analytical papers and information materials made available by OHCHR within the United Nations and for global development partners in contribution to increasing knowledge, awareness and understanding of the realization of the right to development

Strategy

20.10 This part of the subprogramme will pursue a multidimensional strategy to support the implementation of the right to development in accordance with the Declaration on the Right to Development, the Vienna

Declaration and Programme of Action and other relevant mandates. The strategy will focus on:

(a) Ensuring the realization of the right to development across the human rights programme and by the relevant bodies of the United Nations system through strengthened and effective evaluation and monitoring to that end, and taking into account the need for sustainable development;

(b) Enhancing substantive support to the Human Rights Council and its subsidiary mechanisms related to the right to development, including by fostering support to the Working Group on the Right to Development;

(c) Building stronger partnerships and collaboration with relevant actors, including Member States, multilateral institutions and civil society, including non-governmental organizations and the private sector, so that support given to human rights bodies relevant to the right to development, as well as funds and specialized agencies, will have increased focus on its practical implementation;

(d) Encouraging the promotion and protection of the right to development in global development partnerships, as reflected in the Sustainable Development Goals, through advocacy, networking, technical advice and the establishment of partnerships and other kinds of cooperation;

(e) Promoting the implementation of the right to development in technical assistance to requesting States and, taking into account a human rights-based approach, in national development strategies, such as poverty reduction strategy papers, where they exist, national Sustainable Development strategies and United Nations development frameworks, through close cooperation with Member States and United Nations agencies, funds and programmes;

(f) Identifying obstacles to the implementation of the right to development at the international, regional and national levels and promoting awareness about the content and importance of the right to development, including through increased engagement, research, advocacy and informational and educational activities;

(g) Promoting cooperation at the international and regional levels in mainstreaming the right to development, including by undertaking activities aimed at effectively strengthening the global partnership for development among Member States, development agencies and international development, financial and trade institutions.

C. Research and analysis

Objective of the Organization*: To advance the promotion and protection of the effective enjoyment by all of all human rights by increasing knowledge, awareness and understanding in accordance with the guiding principles of this programme

Expected accomplishments of the Secretariat	Indicators of achievement
(a) Strengthened respect for the enjoyment of all human rights and fundamental freedoms by everyone, inter alia, by contributing to combating discrimination and supporting efforts of Member States to that end	(a) Increased number of activities carried out and measures taken to promote and protect the enjoyment by all of all human rights and fundamental freedoms
(b) Strengthened efforts that contribute to the elimination of all forms of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance, including contemporary forms of racism	(b) Increased number of measures taken to eliminate all forms of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance, including contemporary forms of racism
(c) Enhanced contribution of OHCHR to the effective achievement of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development	(c) Increased number of activities carried out and measures taken in contribution to the effective achievement of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development
(d) Enhanced promotion of knowledge, awareness and understanding of legal protection and advocacy for the full implementation of all human rights, including at the country level and through capacity-building and international cooperation	(d) Increased number of activities carried out and measures taken to enhance the promotion of legal protection and advocacy in implementing all human rights
(e) More effective United Nations assistance to Member States and civil society, media and national human rights institutions, where they exist, at their request, in strengthening the rule of law and national democratic institutions for the promotion and protection of all human rights for all	(e) Increased number of activities and measures taken to strengthen the rule of law and democratic institutions for the promotion and protection of all human rights for all
(f) Enhanced methodological expertise to implement human rights activities and to provide advice and assistance to requesting States, the United Nations system and other stakeholders	(f) Increased number of methodological and operational guidelines and tools developed for the realization of all human rights
(g) Enhanced capacity of OHCHR to provide training and advice to promote human rights compliance with a view to protecting rights holders at the national level	(g) Increased number of advisory and training activities provided by OHCHR and its partners, as appropriate, in relevant substantive areas

20.11 This part of the subprogramme will be responsible for enhancing the research and analysis of human rights issues, problems and challenges, and the development and application of expertise on human rights themes and methodologies. It will be responsible for the consolidation, further development and strengthening of substantive human rights expertise to support effective engagement with countries and global and national-level partnerships, and to lead efforts within the United Nations system to meet current human rights challenges. Strengthened expertise will be used to support States' efforts in overcoming human rights implementation gaps and will provide the basis for OHCHR to work on technical cooperation, advocacy, training, policy development, analysis, protection and advice to partners at all levels. The strategy will focus on:

(a) Advocacy for the indivisibility, interdependence and interrelatedness of all human rights by enhancing substantive and methodological expertise; the promotion and protection of all human rights; the development and consolidation of partnerships for strengthening national capacity in the areas of the rule of law, democracy and good governance at all levels; human rights-based approaches to development, counter-terrorism and anti-trafficking measures as well as to the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and poverty reduction strategies and programmes; the protection of human rights in the context of the fight against terrorism; the protection of human rights in the context of business activities; contributing to the elimination of all forms of discrimination, racism, including its contemporary forms, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance; and strengthening respect for the enjoyment of all human rights and fundamental freedoms by everyone, inter alia, by combating discrimination;

(b) Advancing knowledge, awareness, understanding and the implementation of all human rights, including through research, policy-oriented analysis, support to standard-setting capacity-building, advocacy, best practices and the development of methodologies in the areas of human rights protection, institution-building and education, development and delivery of human rights training activities, including within the framework of the World Programme for Human Rights Education, provision of specialized human rights reference services and improved knowledge management;

(c) Wider inclusion in advisory services and training provided to requesting States of measures to be taken to combat all forms of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance, including through the effective implementation of all relevant international instruments and standards, and enhancement of research and analysis in this area;

(d) Follow-up to the Durban Declaration and Programme of Action, the Outcome Document of the Durban Review Conference and the political declaration of the High-level Meeting of the General Assembly to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the adoption of the Durban

Declaration and Programme of Action and the programme of activities for the implementation of the International Decade for People of African Descent (2015-2024), as well as organizing awareness-raising campaigns and disseminating information to that effect.

Subprogramme 2
Supporting human rights treaty bodies

Replace the objective of the Organization, expected accomplishments of the Secretariat, indicators of achievement and strategy of subprogramme 2 with:

Objective of the Organization*: To advance the promotion and protection of the effective enjoyment by all of all human rights by providing support and advice to the human rights treaty bodies, ensuring that the guiding principles of this programme are adhered to and increasing the knowledge and awareness of the international human rights treaties and the work of all treaty bodies among national and international actors
Expected accomplishments of the Secretariat	Indicators of achievement
(a) Fully support treaty bodies' work	(a) (i) Increased percentage of documents submitted on time and in compliance with relevant rules and regulations for the issuance of documentation for consideration by treaty bodies (ii) Number of measures taken to strengthen support for treaty bodies and to assist States parties upon agreement to implement treaty body recommendations and concluding observations, to consider their views on individual communications, as well as to promote their follow-up
(b) Support treaty bodies in their efforts to improve and enhance their working methods	(b) Increased number of States parties' reports considered by treaty bodies based on improved working methods
(c) Support States parties, upon request, in the preparation and timely submission of their national reports to the treaty bodies	(c) Number of activities to support States parties, upon request, during the preparation and submission of their reports to the treaty bodies
(d) Enhanced awareness, knowledge and understanding of treaty body outputs	(d) Increased percentage of uses of treaty body outputs

(e) Enhanced cooperation with relevant stakeholders at all levels with respect to the work of treaty bodies in accordance with their working methods and mandates	(e) Increased number of activities carried out and measures taken in cooperation with relevant stakeholders at all levels in accordance with their working methods and mandates

Strategy

20.12 The subprogramme is under the responsibility of the Human Rights Treaties Division. The strategy will include:

(a) Assisting the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination; the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights; the Human Rights Committee; the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women; the Committee against Torture; the Committee on the Rights of the Child; the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families; the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture; the Committee on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities; and the Committee on Enforced Disappearances in their efforts to make their work more effective;

(b) Fully supporting treaty bodies in their efforts to improve their working methods, including by making their deliberations and decision-making more effective, in order to enhance their efficient and effective functioning;

(c) Drawing on all available in-house resources and expertise to provide support, including analytical capacity, for the review of State reports on the conduct of country visits by human rights treaty bodies, where provided for in the treaty or upon the request of States, and for the processing of individual complaints, in accordance with the guiding principles of this programme;

(d) Enhancing and coordinating in-house efforts more effectively and expanding partnerships with United Nations agencies, non-governmental organizations, national human rights institutions, where they exist, and the media to promote awareness and knowledge, including through new and effective methods of dissemination, such as better use of information and communications technologies, of all international human rights treaties and the work of all treaty bodies;

(e) Promoting the ratification of human rights treaties.

Subprogramme 3
Advisory services, technical cooperation and field activities

Replace the objective of the Organization, expected accomplishments of the Secretariat, indicators of achievement and strategy of subprogramme 3 with:

Objective of the Organization*: To advance the promotion and protection of the effective enjoyment by all of all human rights through enhanced capacity-building, including through assistance to requesting States, in accordance with the guiding principles of this programme
Expected accomplishments of the Secretariat	Indicators of achievement
(a) Enhanced capacity of the United Nations to assist any country, at its request, in its efforts to translate its international human rights obligations into effective laws, regulations and policies	(a) Increased number of legislative and policy changes in accordance with relevant international human rights standards and instruments as a result of OHCHR assistance to requesting countries
(b) Enhanced institutional capacity at the national level through engagement with requesting States to meet the challenges to the full realization of all human rights	(b) Increased number of institutions established or strengthened in the field of human rights at the national level through assistance and training provided by OHCHR
(c) Increased outreach in the provision of mutually agreed assistance, including to remote areas in countries from all regions, through advisory services and technical cooperation, to promote and protect all human rights	(c) Increased mutually agreed assistance, including to remote areas in countries from all regions, through advisory services and technical cooperation
(d) Enhanced support of OHCHR to human rights education and awareness-raising, including at the national level, at the request of States	(d) Increased number of institutionalized human rights training and education programmes for all relevant actors introduced at the regional, subregional and national levels, with the support of the United Nations human rights programme
(e) Enhanced capacity of United Nations country teams, peacekeeping operations and peacebuilding activities to assist requesting countries in their efforts to develop national human rights protection systems	(e) Increased number of activities implemented by United Nations country teams and human rights components of United Nations peacekeeping operations and peacebuilding activities in support of national human rights protection systems, in cooperation with requesting countries
(f) Enhanced role of OHCHR in contributing to the prevention of the continuation of human rights violations in accordance with the mandate of the High Commissioner for Human Rights	(f) Increased number of activities undertaken by OHCHR contributing to resolving identified situations of large-scale human rights violations at short notice

(g) Timely and effective assistance to requesting States in the implementation of the recommendations they have agreed to in the universal periodic review process, including through the provision of assistance from the Voluntary Fund for Financial and Technical Assistance for the implementation of the universal periodic review	(g) Increased number of assistance programmes and activities provided to requesting States in the implementation of universal periodic review recommendations

Strategy

20.13 The subprogramme is under the responsibility of the Field Operations and Technical Cooperation Division. The strategy will include:

(a) Providing States and stakeholders at the national level with human rights legal advice, education and training through mutually agreed technical cooperation programmes aimed at strengthening the administration of justice and developing effective national human rights institutions, human rights education programmes and comprehensive national plans of action;

(b) Strengthening cooperation within the United Nations system at the regional and subregional levels for the protection and promotion of human rights, including interaction between OHCHR programmes in the field and relevant United Nations human rights mechanisms;

(c) Strengthening United Nations efforts for peace, security and development by enhancing the capacity of United Nations country teams, peacekeeping operations and peacebuilding activities, and other United Nations field presences to assist countries, at their request, in the development of national human rights protection systems guided, inter alia, by the recommendations of human rights treaty bodies, the Human Rights Council and its subsidiary bodies and mechanisms. This will be achieved through joint activities with the United Nations offices or missions, where they exist, and the deployment of human rights officers and the provision of expert advice from Headquarters and regional and country offices, in accordance with the guiding principles of this programme;

(d) Rapidly deploying human rights observers and fact-finding missions in crisis situations, at the specific request of an affected country or as mandated by the Human Rights Council and other United Nations policymaking bodies;

(e) Assisting the Human Rights Council and its mechanisms, in particular the universal periodic review and special procedures, as well as other United Nations policymaking bodies and treaty bodies, in preparing for and following up on their dialogue with countries in the implementation of their mandates, and ensuring the efficient and effective functioning of the thematic and country-specific special procedures of the Human Rights Council by following human rights developments.

Subprogramme 4
Supporting the Human Rights Council, its subsidiary bodies and mechanisms

Replace the objective of the Organization, expected accomplishments of the Secretariat, indicators of achievement and strategy of subprogramme 4 with:

Objective of the Organization*: To advance the promotion and protection of the effective enjoyment by all of all human rights by providing strengthened support and advice, while ensuring that the guiding principles of this programme are adhered to, to the Human Rights Council and its subsidiary bodies and mechanisms, including the Advisory Committee, the special procedures, the universal periodic review and the complaint procedure
